Answer The first reaction produces a solid precipitate and the second reaction is soluble because complex ions are created in the reaction.  $(\text{HgI}_3^-)$  is a complex ion, which means it has Hg ion in the center that is surrounded by iodine molecules that are able to act as Lewis bases and attract the protons of the Lewis acid in the reaction.

precipitation reaction, and the solid produced in the reaction is known as the precipitate. You can predict whether a precipitate will form using a list of solubility rules such as those found in the table below.

Net Ionic Equation Worksheet Answers

Precipitation refers to a chemical reaction that occurs in aqueous solution when two ions bond together to form an insoluble salt, which is known as the precipitate. A precipitation reaction can occur when two solutions containing different salts are mixed, and a cation/anion pair in the resulting combined solution forms an insoluble salt; this salt then precipitates out of solution.
